in drug testing, submit to search, pay restitution in the amount of $41,479.85, provide access to financial information, maintain a single checking account for all financial transactions, disclose all assets and liabilities, allow inspection of his personal computers and notify his probation officer of all new software purchases, be prohibited from incurring new credit or new obligations, not be self-employed or employed by friends or relatives, obtain approval for all employment and not work for cash, not possess any identification in any but defendant's true identity, and cooperate with the IRS in determining tax liability.

In an application dated May 13, 2008 (Dkt. 68), U.S. Probation Officer Michael S. Larsen alleged the following violations of the conditions of supervised release:

- 1. Driving with a suspended license, on or before April 23, 2008, in violation of the general condition that he not commit any federal, state or local crime.
- 2. Possession of marijuana, on or before April 23, 2008, in violation of the general condition that he not commit any federal, state, or local crime.
- 3. Possession of a counterfeit driver's license, on or before April 23, 2008, in violation of the special condition that he not obtain or possess any driver's license, Social Security number, birth certificate, passport, or any other form of identification in any other name than the defendant's true legal name, without prior written approval of the probation officer.

Defendant was advised in full as to those charges and as to his constitutional rights.

Defendant admitted the alleged violations and waived any evidentiary hearing as to whether they occurred. (Dkt. 70.)

I therefore recommend the Court find defendant violated his supervised release as alleged, and that the Court conduct a hearing limited to the issue of disposition. The next hearing will be
